About Chamberlain Music

Chamberlain Music is a leading supplier and reseller of musical instruments and accessories.

Our company was founded in a small shop in Weyhill, Haslemere UK in 1990 and we have grown steadily over the last 35 years. We have around 40 staff most of whom are based in our Haslemere offices and warehouse, with some working from home and some in our Leicestershire workshops. We are part of the Frederick Hyde group, and our brands include Musisca, MMX, Percussion Plus, Octopus Ukulele, Recorder Workshop and Tom & Will. Our warehouse holds around £2.5m of musical instruments.

Since we opened our doors, we've supplied instruments, equipment, and goods to almost every educational institution in the UK. Our customers also include choirs & orchestras, education suppliers & retail music stores, catalogue companies and international consolidators. Many of our products are available outside of the UK via distributors and retailers worldwide.

Terms & conditions

Chamberlain Music's 2023-2024 (published September 2023) catalogue replaces all previous catalogues and as such terminates all previous offers. With such a large catalogue of items it is inevitable that from time to time there will be errors in pricing caused either by our mistake or simply manufacturers' price rises. As such, price and availability is subject to change without notice. Please refer to chamberlainmusic.com for latest pricing.

How to Order

Customers can register and place orders at www.chamberlainmusic.com quoting official PO order reference, or by email at sales@chamberlainmusic.com or phone 01428 658806.

Payments and accounts

Credit accounts are normally automatically given to institutions such as schools, colleges, choirs. You can also pay for purchases by BACS, credit and debit cards, various finance and leasing options are available also.

Title to Goods

Title to any goods supplied at any time to the customer by Frederick Hyde Ltd shall not pass to the customer, notwithstanding delivery of any goods or any documents representing them, until payment in full for any and all such goods supplied and all other amounts on any account whatsoever due from the customer to Frederick Hyde Ltd has been made in full by the customer.

Returns

We want you to be very happy with the service you get from Chamberlain Music. Therefore, if the goods you receive are faulty please return them to us in their original condition within 7 days and we will either repair or replace them.

If the goods you receive are not what you ordered, please return them to us in their original condition within 7 days and we will either replace them with the goods you ordered, or refund the cost of the goods and carriage. Please call us before returning any goods. We cannot accept returned goods without prior notification. We recommend that you use a recorded delivery service for all returns. Orders are accepted on a firm sale basis only.

Chamberlain Music does not operate an approval service for books or musical instruments, unless organised in advance and in writing. Where products are returned without having booked in the return, goods may be subject to a 20% restocking fee.

Non-delivery of goods

If your goods are not delivered to you within 7 days of the invoice date please notify us immediately, otherwise we cannot accept responsibility for the lost goods.

Damage in transit

Any claim arising from damage in transit must be made to Chamberlain Music within 3 days of receipt of the goods. Please check the cases and contents immediately upon receipt, and before signing for them. Goods seen to be damaged should be signed "Damaged in transit" and packaging materials should be preserved for inspection. Damaged goods must be reported within 3 days of delivery. If unsure, please sign for goods as "unchecked".

VAT and other taxes

The prices within this catalogue are displayed exclusive of VAT, which is chargeable where applicable. Books and sheet music are zero-rated for VAT in the UK; most other items are rated at 20%.

Orders sent to addresses outside the United Kingdom are not subject to VAT. However such orders may be subject to local taxes and customs charges, which will be levied once the package reaches your country.

You are responsible for any such charges and if you are unsure you would be well advised to contact your local customs office for further details.

Since Brexit, some deliveries to Northern Ireland may be subject to import tariffs and customs charges. Please bear in mind when ordering, and check for the latest guidance if unsure.

Full Terms

Our full terms are available at <https://www.chamberlainmusic.com/pages/terms-conditions> and all orders are accepted under these conditions of sale. We reserve the right to charge interest on invoices paid outside of our terms.

Need advice?
Choosing the right keyboard

All of the keyboards on this page offer additional functionality, which can be useful if you don't have access to computers or other methods of encouraging composition.

Built-in multi-track recorders allow pupils to layer compositions – up to 16 tracks in some cases.

And of course they all have touch sensitive keys, with the high quality sounds you'd expect from Yamaha.

We can help - call or email for friendly advice

KAWAI Digital pianos

Kawai's passion for innovation extends to electronics where the company created the industry's first digital pianos with real wooden keys, the first action designs that re-create the natural movement and motion of an acoustic piano action, the first built-in CD recorders and the first affordable digital pianos with real wooden soundboards.

In its never-ending quest to elevate the art of instrumental craftsmanship, Kawai continues to fulfil its calling as the future of the piano.

Give your digital piano the freedom to move

These sturdy piano movers are shaped to fit virtually any model of upright style digital piano. They are particularly suited to models by Yamaha, Roland, Casio, and Kawai, with the traditional front leg design. The high quality castors allow easy manoeuvrability, and their scratch-free wheels protect the floor.

The extra stable design raises the piano just 18mm off the ground. This means your digital piano can easily stay on the castors while in use, maintaining a low ground clearance to aid stability. Musisca digital piano castors are specially designed with the rear wheel positioned around the back of the instrument to lower the centre of gravity and give additional support.

Non-slip rubber carpets in the dollies protect the base of your digital piano and keep it securely in position. Brakes on the inside wheels prevent the piano moving away from you.

- Universal fit for all popular digital piano models
- Made from black powder-coated steel with non-slip rubber mats
- Only raises piano 1.8cm off the ground for increased stability
- Swivel wheels with scratch-free rubber tyres and secure brake
- Quality British design and manufacture
- Max. piano feet size: 54cm x 9.5cm (length x width)
- Max. load 150kg

Massive stocks

We have an extensive display of new and reconditioned instruments by Yamaha, Kawai, Steinway, Bluthner and more!

Buy with confidence

We won't be beaten on price, and certainly not on quality of service.

After sales service

Our concert technicians & award-winning tuners ensure that all our pianos achieve their finest playing potential.

Leasing

Leasing can provide the easy, affordable route to that much needed new departmental equipment.

Tailored finance packages

Option to include maintenance of your equipment within the lease plan, a popular choice when it comes to acoustic pianos. Rolling replacement scheme on certain products.

We want your old pianos!

Most schools have unwanted, out of tune pianos in the corner of the dining room, or perhaps a number of instruments in practice rooms that are past their best. We don't just sell pianos, we are also keen to purchase old instruments.

Our other piano services

- Free on site assessment of current piano stock detailing condition and value
- Free quotes for new instruments, offering a number of different financial options in order to make the best use of your capital
- Commission sale. We have an enviable reputation for successfully selling second hand pianos on commission in our showroom. We undertake all of the transportation and any technical work needed, ensuring that we achieve the maximum possible selling price for your piano. Commission rates from as little as 5%.

SILENT Piano™

THE TOUCH, THE SOUND, THE SILENCE

Beautiful Yamaha acoustic pianos, fitted with Yamaha's SC3 and SH3 Silent systems allowing silent practice through headphones.

Activate the silent mode and a rail moves between the hammers and the strings to 'switch off' the acoustic piano. Highly sophisticated optical sensor technology then captures the detailed movements of each key, resulting in the beautiful sound of a Yamaha CFX concert grand piano through your headphones.

Not only does the piano sound amazing, there are also 9 other instrument sounds, including grand and electric pianos, strings, organ and harpsichord.

TransAcoustic™

ACOUSTIC DIGITAL SYNERGY

Yamaha TransAcoustic TA3

An acoustic piano with a volume control, or a digital piano with strings? Yamaha's latest development stretches the imagination and opens up a whole new world of possibilities.

TransAcoustic is the name we have given to a new breed of piano. At its most basic level, it turns the soundboard into a "loudspeaker". This means that any sound can be delivered through this naturally resonant piano component.

- Groundbreaking new TransAcoustic technology fitted to popular Yamaha models
- TransAcoustic function uses the natural wood soundboard as the speaker for all sampled sounds
- Incredible sound quality in TransAcoustic mode
- Play along with pre-recorded backing tracks
- Play your piano at any volume without the need for headphones

disklavier ENSPIRE

For more than 25 years, the Yamaha Disklavier has maintained a stellar reputation as the world's most reliable reproducing piano. It has won many prestigious awards and remains as popular as ever.

Disklavier ENSPIRE replaces the popular E3 series, and remains the most accurate, high-resolution, fully-integrated reproducing piano system available today. The Disklavier ENSPIRE can recreate the subtlest nuances of a performance, from the softest pianissimo passages right through to the thunderous fortissimos - just as the original artist intended.

- New streamlined design eliminates the control box of previous generations
- Intuitive app enables the ENSPIRE to be controlled seamlessly by iOS and Android devices, PCs, and Macs
- Direct access to more than 500 songs and 6,000 performances that can be downloaded directly to the instrument from the Yamaha MusicSoft online store
- Unprecedented high-resolution recording and playback accuracy
- Integrated DSP servo drive system that monitors key, hammer, and pedal movement and automatically adjusts in real-time to ensure accurate performance reproduction

Music and the creative arts

Solutions for the learning environment

What we do

Good music teaching demands quality resources. To teach effectively we need the right tools. This is just as important when considering music technology as it is when choosing reliable orchestral instruments. Away from the traditional classroom, recording studios and multimedia performance areas offer extra learning opportunities. It is vital when making a purchase that you receive the very best advice and service.

Whatever you need, we have a range of services and solutions that will help your pupils achieve their full potential.

Consultancy & Design

We have many years' experience in planning and developing creative facilities for schools and colleges. We will work closely with you to arrive at the best solution, ensuring that any project is implemented efficiently, on time, and on budget.

Installation & Training

Our team looks after every aspect of the job, working closely with consulting engineers and building contractors to make sure that you are delivered the quality facilities you expect. Follow-up bespoke training means that you will get the best out of your new equipment.

Instruments & Equipment

As one of the UK's biggest music retailers we enjoy unrivalled purchasing power with all major instrument and equipment manufacturers. We can then offer the best prices to our customers. We can supply everything you need for teaching music and other creative arts.

Our team has travelled extensively throughout Europe, Asia, Africa and the Middle East, advising schools and colleges on the development of their creative education learning spaces, and providing music teachers with training and support on the relevant use of technology in the classroom.

Consultation & Design

Our team provides Consultation and Design advice to schools. Many schools around the world have benefitted from our considerable expertise and experience, on every step of the journey from aspiration to implementation. We work with architects, consulting engineers and other professionals, along with school staff. We ensure that the result is affordable, appropriate, relevant, and future-proofed.

We have been providing advice and support to music teachers for over 30 years, during which time changes in the exam system have led to a rethink of the role of creativity in the music curriculum. Music departments no longer teach only notation, aural, recorder and singing. Pupils can express their creativity through improvisation and composition. This new era in music teaching brought about a need both for better accommodation and new equipment.

We have always provided impartial advice over the years, and this has expanded into other areas of the creative curriculum, not least the introduction of new and exciting technologies. Many schools and school-build companies do not have the required know-how to design spaces suited for creativity.

That is where we come in, providing the missing elements, acting as advocates for both teaching staff and students.

We can bring clarity and focus at the planning stage, continuing to work with the design and construction teams throughout the length of the project, to ensure that areas such as acoustic separation, room relationships and audio connectivity are dealt with appropriately. We offer specialists who have a passion for their subject areas, combined with excellent creative skills and balanced with budgetary awareness and a recognition that the best solution is not necessarily the most complicated or the most expensive.

"They have been most helpful in designing the Music Technology Rooms in our new Music School.

They know how the technology can and should be used by a forward-thinking Music Department and as a result their frank advice during the early stages of our project was most welcome.

They have shown us how we can make best use of the budget and technology available."

Installation & Training

For schools to get the best out of their equipment, we provide structured, comprehensive, and tailored training on every aspect of the equipment we install. Teachers can opt to stagger aspects of their training to match their own progression through using the new facilities: our staff can return after a number of weeks or months to answer any questions which have arisen in the interim, and to help staff move on to the next level. We can also provide ongoing support for teachers via phone, email, or a remote online session.

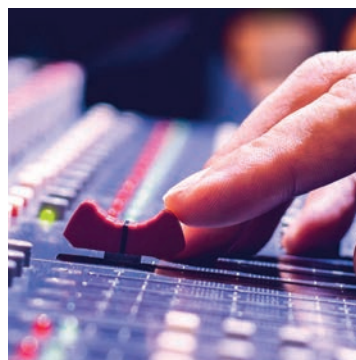

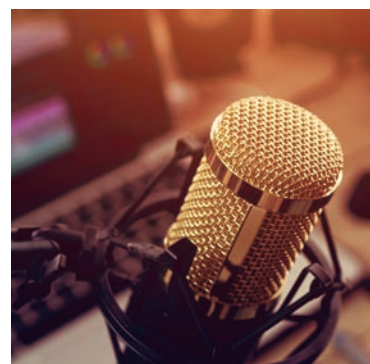

It is vital that details agreed at the design stage are effectively implemented during construction. Excellence at this stage will preserve the integrity of the complete project.

We understand the challenges faced in achieving the best outcome for any new build or refurbishment project. We have worked with construction companies who, like us, aimed to provide the very highest standards to our shared clients. Sadly, we occasionally encounter those whose lack of vision has threatened to compromise the whole scheme.

No matter what challenges we have faced, our staff always act as advocates for the school throughout the project, ensuring the best outcomes for the school and its future student population.

We offer comprehensive installation services, working in tandem with industry-leading companies to provide the highest quality at every stage.

We install stage lighting, theatre sound systems and digital studio wiring; music ICT suites, school radio stations and Apple server systems; mobile and fixed staging, bespoke keyboard and computer furniture and television green screens. In short, anything related to the effective teaching of the creative curriculum.

Music ICT step-by-step

We have considerable experience in the development of music ICT facilities in schools around the world. Whether based around Apple computers or tablets, we can help you find the best solution to provide a relevant music curriculum using ICT.

Design

Our experience means we will design the perfect ICT system for your music department. Our education advisors use the software and hardware that we recommend, so you can be confident that what we suggest will meet your needs.

We interact with your consulting engineers and architect to ensure that the building infrastructure supports the music department's vision.

Pre-installation

We pre-install as many of your software packages as possible onto your new computers so that when you receive them you are ready to teach.

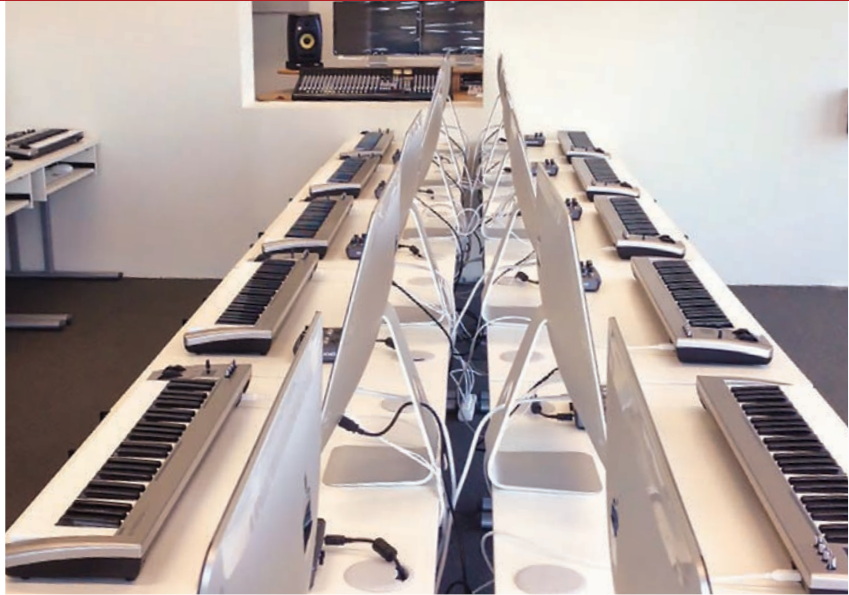

With all software pre-configured and drivers for your hardware installed, you can focus on the teaching rather than being distracted by the technology. Multiple licences for Sibelius can either be pre-installed or deployed from any new network server.

Server configuration

Where multiple Apple computers are being considered, an Apple server seamlessly joins any new computers to the school's existing Active Directory.

This can be a challenge for any school without expertise or experience in Mac OS integration. We will configure the server to your school's specifications and create or migrate usernames and managed preferences.

Installation

Any music ICT suite usually consists of computers (often with an associated server), ancillary devices (keyboards, audio interfaces), network cabling and switches, and dedicated bespoke furniture that allows effective use of music and computer equipment together.

We will ensure that everything is set up correctly, and that it is left tidy, easy to maintain and ready for use.

Training

Our tailored training ensures that you can operate and teach effectively using your software and hardware packages. We deliver training that provides a comprehensive overview of your software.

We ensure that you understand how your new suite is put together and can train you on its relevant use in the music curriculum. We also provide training for your ICT technicians on any server software we have installed.

Support

Music departments often need support - whether it is general advice or help after a system problem. We offer a remote support package which provides fast and reliable solutions.

Almost all queries or problems can be resolved using remote support, taking the waiting time and any potential additional costs out of the equation.

"From my first contact ... I was confident that they would be able to provide my department with the technology solution we needed. The iMacs are totally reliable, unobtrusive in the classroom and intuitive to use.

The children are able to achieve a great deal musically and really enjoy using the computers. I am able to spend my time teaching rather than trying to deal with ICT problems.

The installation, training and ongoing support offered... have been superb."

Media installations

More and more schools are recognising the benefits of the creative curriculum for all their pupils. No longer restricted to a few talented musicians, the use of creative technologies is now enhancing the learning of many more students, through school radio stations, television and drama studios and spaces where sound and video equipment are incorporated into school performances.

Recording Studios

Modern digital audio recording facilities provide not only the requirements for many aspects of the music curriculum, they also become places where informal creativity can be nurtured. Children love the excitement of taking home an audio recording of something they have created or performed.

Radio Stations

A school Radio Station allows students to express their views, engage in lively debates and explore their creativity whilst simultaneously developing their speaking and listening skills. We install bespoke Radio Stations that suit the size and age range of any school population, with optional interview and editing facilities which can mesh seamlessly with the school's audio network.

TV Studios

Having a school TV studio puts the power of video into your students' hands and helps them to develop employable media skills using professional equipment. Extended learning takes place when video is incorporated as part of the everyday curriculum. Everyone benefits from sharing the ethos and vision of the school through the students' eyes, showcasing professionally created content of sports matches, school productions and special events to the school and the local community.

Drama Studios

Drama (and Dance) studios require careful planning because of the mix of requirements: space, lighting, sound, even audience seating. Flooring and acoustic treatment are also areas which need consideration. We ensure you end up with a creative space which can be used for a multitude of different activities, from drama rehearsals to art exhibitions, dance performances to master classes.

AV installations

All schools require effective performance spaces, and to ensure that all performers are heard clearly, a good sound system is a prerequisite. Whatever the occasion, clarity of sound and ease of operation are essential. We can also design and install projection equipment and surround-sound AV systems to transform your school hall into a top-quality cinema!

Music ICT and recording studios

Working with you to provide your perfect Music ICT solution

Our Music ICT experts can guide and assist with design and installation. We can provide everything needed to deliver Music ICT classrooms, recording areas, performance spaces and more. Whatever your needs, we would be happy to visit your school and build a specification based on your individual requirements and specifications. For a free consultation please call us today.

Elements of the perfect ICT workstation

1 Microphones (p55-59)

A microphone allows students to record their own vocal or instrumental part into their chosen music software program.

2 Monitors (p54)

Good quality monitors are an important part of any studio or mastering setup.

3 Apple Computers (p38-39)

Apple computers are the choice for many schools and colleges, with their ease of use and dedicated music software programs. Although some school IT departments may be concerned about adding them to their PC network, we can advise on the best way forward as part of our consultation service.

4 Control Surfaces (p49-53)

Control surfaces replicate the on-screen faders and other controls in music software, allowing a tactile method of mixing. Ideal for studios where a final project mix is going to take place.

5 Headphones (p20-21)

Headphones are an essential component of any ICT suite or Recording Studio. Although they may cost considerably less than other equipment, choosing the right sort of headphones will make long-term project use more comfortable and manageable. Ask us for advice on the most appropriate type for each use.

6 Desk/Workstation (p41)

A dedicated music workstation desk will allow ease of access to computer keyboard and mouse, music keyboard and any other equipment, thus improving the working environment for staff and students alike.

7 Audio Interfaces (p40-41)

We also encourage our school colleagues to include audio interfaces in the project plans: a good quality audio interface will reduce wear and tear on the computer itself, as well as providing front-facing headphone and instrument sockets, and a volume control.

8 ICT Software (p44-47)

We can advise on the most appropriate software for your needs. Whether for notation, composition, recording or as part of an ICT-enhanced curriculum, there are many options available.

9 Keyboard Controllers (p43)

A controller keyboard can either be a standalone music keyboard - with the appropriate connection to your computer - or a dedicated 'dummy' keyboard that only makes sounds when connected to a suitable computer with music software running. There are many variations in size and functions so call us for some clear advice and the best prices.

Performance Controllers

While most schools will be familiar with keyboard controllers (usually either a 'standard' keyboard that happens to have USB, or a controller keyboard that does not have its own built-in sounds), there are other options available to control music software or hardware in the classroom, including pad controllers. These allow you to control additional features in music software, such as mixer faders and rotary controls.

A MIDI keyboard or controller keyboard is typically a piano-style electronic musical keyboard, often with other buttons, wheels and sliders, used for sending MIDI signals or commands over a USB or MIDI 5-pin cable to other musical devices or computers.

The basic MIDI keyboard does not produce sounds by itself. Instead, MIDI information on keys or buttons the performer has pressed is sent to a receiving device capable of creating sound through modelling synthesis, sample playback, or an analog hardware instrument.

DAW stands for digital audio workstation. It is an electronic device or software application used for recording, editing and producing audio files.

Handheld Recording

Handheld recorders offer an inexpensive option for quality recording in the classroom or performance area. They will give much better sound quality than a phone or a laptop (unless these have a dedicated microphone connected), and can be good enough in some circumstances to produce CD-quality recordings.

To get the best possible quality:

- mount the recorder on some sort of mic stand
- do a quick test recording - and check it - before completing your recording session
- use 'stereo' and the highest possible recording quality setting on the recorder
- use external microphones if your recorder has this option and you have good quality microphones available
- leave gaps at the start and end of the recording to make editing easier.

Podcasting

A podcast is an audio story created to share ideas, presentations or music. Schools can also use podcasts to make announcements via their website or to record guest speakers and publish their presentations online.

Podcasts are digital files that can be emailed or downloaded; in addition, most podcasts offer a subscription option, allowing the listener to receive additional content automatically.

The equipment needed for podcasting will depend on a number of factors, including what you already have available in your department (headphones, microphones etc). We can help you design the right system for your needs - just drop us an email or give us a call.

Mobile Device Recording

iOS Recording (or Mobile Device Recording, if we want to be less Apple-centric) is becoming increasingly popular in schools and colleges, where often pupil devices are available which can be utilised for music activities.

Add one or two small and inexpensive accessories, and you can have a powerful recording setup, ideal for recording in class, in a practice room... wherever you need to make a quality recording.

Controllers

Some apps allow you to play a keyboard 'virtually' using your device's screen, but for those occasions when only a physical keyboard or pad controller will do the job... we have the answer. May require additional hardware to connect to your device.

Analogue Mixers

Mixers - Making the Right Choice

With the price differential between analogue and digital mixers reducing all the time, schools are wondering which type is best for them. In general, digital mixers offer a cleaner, more accurate sound path for anything that is passing through them. They also sometimes allow sounds to be imported into software through a single cable, much like an audio interface.

For large format mixers with lots of channels, you may still wish to consider analogue, as these can still be slightly cheaper. Analogue desks also usually have individual tone, auxiliary and bus controls for each channel, which makes understanding the signal path a little easier.

Radio mics generally come in three different frequency ranges: VHF, UHF and Wi-Fi. Typically up to 3 different VHF frequencies can be used at the same time. Systems that use UHF are tightly regulated, and operating more than 4 systems will usually require a licence from PMSE Licensing. With Wi-Fi systems you may be able to operate 10 systems at the same time - licence-free - but be aware that some school Wi-Fi networks can cause interference.

Dynamic microphones are, in general, cheaper and more robust than condenser microphones. The sound they reproduce can sometimes be a little 'coloured', meaning that the microphone is affecting the sound being amplified or recorded. But sometimes this can be advantageous, as the microphone can enhance the sound, or help prevent feedback. There are different types of dynamic mic, and in particular, because of their robustness, they tend to be used in locations where sound levels are particularly high, such as with drums or amplifiers.

Condenser Microphones

Condenser microphones will process sounds without adding as much tonal colour as some dynamics do; they tend to be more sensitive, so can pick up quieter sounds more effectively - but are also more prone to damage if dropped!

They usually require a power source: either a battery or a connection to a desk that has phantom power. Like dynamics they can have a number of different uses, from headset to choir amplification, drum overheads to stereo recording.

Small Diaphragm Microphones

Ideal for use with higher frequencies from instruments such as acoustic guitars and cymbals.

Compact and Portable PA Systems

Which PA system is right for my school?

We can advise you on the most suitable system for your needs: however, the following pointers may be helpful:

Channels

Not every channel on a mixer can take a microphone. In general, those channels with XLR (3-pin) connections are suitable for microphones, while other channels will be designed for use with direct-connected instruments or other line equipment such as radio mic receivers or CD players. Remember that if you are using condenser microphones your mixer will need to have a phantom power facility

Portability

Mixers with built-in amplifiers and most larger speakers tend to be quite heavy; bear this in mind when picking your system

Power Output

Both the power output from an amplifier, and the power handling capability of a speaker, measured in watts (W), are a rough indication of the overall volume of the system. For a larger venue a more powerful system is usually advised

Other Features

Look out for additional features such as Bluetooth, AirPlay, graphic EQ or monitor (foldback) outputs as these can add useful functionality

Speakers

PA speakers come in a wide variety of types and sizes, and are either passive (meaning they need to be amplified by a separate mixer amp or amplifier) or active (meaning they have built-in amplifiers - which usually means they also need to have a mains power source). Larger speakers will cope with lower frequencies more effectively, including drums, bass guitar and even full-range playback of pre-recorded music

Accessories

Don't forget good quality stands, cables, microphones and radio microphones

RAT Alto

Incredible height range

The RAT Alto Stand has a unique range of height and is taller than other stands on the market. This virtually unbreakable music stand can be set low enough to suit a child cellist, and high enough for a singer standing on a riser. This stand is ideal when space on a riser is an issue. The stands can be nested together tightly for compact storage.

- Tough plastic tray - virtually unbreakable
- Additional shelf for pencils and small instruments
- Friction height adjustment from 71.5- 160cm
- No screws or levers!
- Can be stored under desks and tables
- Desk size 50.3x32cm
- Weight 2.3kg

Wak-a-TUBES

PERCUSSION Plus

MADE IN THE UK

Hollow tubes which can be played with a beater, struck against a hard surface or tapped against each other to create different sounds and a simple harmony.

Ideal for playing individually or together in groups - a simple and inexpensive way to introduce children to music. Tubes are lightweight so easily transportable, and are a simple and inexpensive way to create music as well as being enormous fun.

A FEW GREAT REASONS TO CHOOSE WAK-A-TUBES...

- ✔ We are made in Leicestershire along with Stilton, Red Leicester and Pork Pies
 Buy locally and protect our planet - our competitors manufacture their tubes in China and the USA and ship across our oceans in containers that are largely full of air!
- ✔ We are made from REACH compliant materials
 In short our production material supplier is required to make sure no nasty substances are used in the production of our tubes.
- ✔ And if you misplace or damage one of us you can easily buy individual spare notes
- ✔ And of course we sound really good!

COLOUR MATCHING NOTE SYSTEM

Remember, Wak-a-Tubes use the same colour system as Percussion Plus bells and chime bars, which can be found in the following pages of this catalogue.

PP790 C Major diatonic scale set
8 notes C40-C52, ranging in length from 12" to 24".

£16.25

PP791 Chromatic set
5 sharps and flats (C#41, D#43, F#46, G#48, A#50) which combine with the PP790 to create a full chromatic octave of 13 tubes. Tubes range in length from approx 12" to 24".

£12.50

PP795 C Major pentatonic scale set
6 notes C40, D42, E44, G47, A49, C52. Suitable for younger players, as all the notes sound pleasing when played together. Tubes range in length from approx 12" to 24".

£13.33

PP793 Bass diatonic set
7 notes: C28 to B39. Rich and sonorous, these combine nicely with PP790 to form 2 full octaves. Tubes range in length from approx 24" to 48".

£25.00

PP794 Bass chromatic set
5 sharps and flats (C#29, D#31, F#34, G#36, A#38) which combine with the PP793 to create a full chromatic octave of 12 notes. Tubes range in length from approx 27" to 48".

£22.50

£10.00

PP798 Wak-a-tube stand
Holds 13 tubes.

£16.67

PP797 Wak-a-Rap Carrier
A carrying tote, suitable for Wak-a-Tubes and Boomwhackers. Tubes can also be secured for playing with beaters.

£12.50

FREE WAK-A-TUNE SONGBOOK

A collection of easy to play familiar tunes which will have you playing the Wak-a-Tubes in no time.

The tunes are ordered within the book by the number of tubes needed to play each song. The necessary tubes are written in the top left hand corner of each page of the song.

If you have a pianist / guitarist or keyboard player who would like to join in too then they will find all the chord symbols they need written above the music.

£22.50

Desk bells

PP273 8 desk bells - diatonic range

Set of 8 notes, C64-C76. Played by simply pressing on the top of the handle. Precision tuned with a lovely clear tone. Great for children and adults for individual and group playing.

£30.83

Combi bells

Combi bells are very versatile as they can be rung as hand bells (shake the bell) or tapped like desk bells (press the top of the bell to sound). Younger children can play by arranging these bells on a table and simply tapping the top. Note names are clearly displayed on top of each bell.

The chromatic add-on sets allow for more versatility, enabling you to perform a wider range of music in various keys.

Excellent tone & built to last, these bells are ideal for both children and adults, & can be used individually or for group participation. The bells are housed in safe clear plastic shells, which protect them from damage without affecting the sound.

Colour matching note system

Hand, combi and desk bells use the same colour scheme as Wak-a-Tubes

Honestly Made

Our Honestly Made range of Musical Instruments is produced and imported from developing nations in Africa, Asia and South America.

Most of these products are manufactured in independent family workshops that are too small to join Fair Trade groups and some of these countries do not have such organisations. However we can vouch that our suppliers and their smaller suppliers follow Fair Trade principals which include:

- ✓ Agreeing a fair price
- ✓ Paying significant amounts upfront
- ✓ Being loyal and reasonable in all dealings
- ✓ Prioritising smaller suppliers over large factories
- ✓ We love to buy products made with recycled plastic waste
- ✓ Selecting products that can be produced without damaging the environment

We are always trying to reduce the use of SUP single use plastics and some of our Honestly Made products are making good use of waste plastic in their production.

Many of the goods we receive from developing countries are packaged in recycled plastic and we sometimes reuse this material when packing and shipping goods to our customers, maybe you will also find a good use for it too.

SLAP DJEMBE

From PERCUSSION Plus

The new djembe that everyone is talking about

Great drums for all djembe players. Slap djembes are robust and lightweight, so they are simple to transport and carry around. They are weatherproof, making them great for outdoor use.

- Synthetic shell djembes from Percussion Plus
- Heat sealed cotton cloth exterior
- "How to play" directions on drum heads
- Synthetic drum heads have a tactile playing surface, giving an authentic feel
- Deluxe rubber no-scuff base protects drum and floor/desk from scratching

HOW TO PLAY A SLAP DJEMBE

The design on the drum head shows where the hand should strike the drum in order to obtain a fabulous variety of tones, from punchy bass to cracking highs.

When you hit the skin, let your hand bounce back allowing the sound to ring. Sit with the drum tilted away from you to allow the air to move, and the notes to resonate.

Andy Gleadhill's Slap Djembe

A guide to playing and learning drum rhythms from around the world. Includes structured 10 week lesson plan developed for KS2 and early KS3.

SLAP DJEMBE

Pretuned

- Lightweight and hard-wearing, great for classroom use and also for taking on holiday or to festivals.
- Pretuned drum heads are tightly glued to the drum. They do not stretch, and stay in tune well
- Supplied with carrying strap, which attaches to fixed metal hoops

Setting the standard for quality, durability, sound and value

Kente series

Traditional techniques and the finest materials are used to make djembes that are specially designed for long term use in schools and which represent best value in the UK.

- Traditional African Kente decoration
- Tough and strong, ideal for the classroom
- Clear, round tones, a full, mellow bass and bright slaps
- Handcrafted from a single piece of sustainably sourced solid mahogany
- Goatskin heads with pre-stretched nylon rope tuning
- Sarong wrapped head ring
- Superior third metal ring system to eliminate skin slippage

Each drum is hand-painted with traditional African kente patterns

'Andy Gleadhill's Slap Djembe' drumming method

Included with 10, 15 and 20 player packs

Percussion Workshop fully supports the SVLK, a legal scheme which ensures that the manufacture of timber products in Indonesia is legally compliant. It certifies that all the products come from sources that are legally logged, transported, traded and processed.

This is in accordance with Indonesia's initiative to answer the global need to be more responsible with the world's natural resources.

Percussion Plus Ghanaian Djembes

Hand made and decorated with unique carvings, these larger drums are fitted with thick goat skin heads and tough stringing. Dimensions are approximate.

These authentically African instruments are hand made by drummers with passion and specialist knowledge gained from years of experience. The wood is purchased from the forestry commission of Ghana.

- Superior quality guaranteed
- Hand carved from solid, chunky African cedar
- Double stringing means that the tuning is very stable
- Booming, loud bass tones and whip-crack highs
- Authentic hand carved decorative patterns

Yamaha Digital Saxophones

Play the saxophone anytime, anywhere with YDS digital saxophones from Yamaha

Enjoy a choice of 73 instrument sounds, comprising 56 saxophone voices and a full range of digital instrument and acoustic wind sounds. Soprano, alto, tenor and baritone sounds are fully customisable through the dedicated smartphone app.

Sound is produced simply by blowing into the mouthpiece, without worrying about having the correct embouchure.

The instrument comes equipped with an AUX for connecting with other devices, such as smartphones and audio players. The YDS-150 is supplied with mouthpiece set, padded carrying case, and strap (YDS-120 supplied with mouthpiece only).

- A perfect mix of acoustic and digital technologies
- Play anytime, anywhere with controllable volume
- Plug in headphones for silent practice
- Receive tactile feedback and resonance, just like an acoustic instrument
- Edit settings and adjust controls with the dedicated smartphone app
- Experience authentic saxophone design and resonance

pBone

BIG DISCOUNTS FOR SCHOOLS

Something new for your classroom!

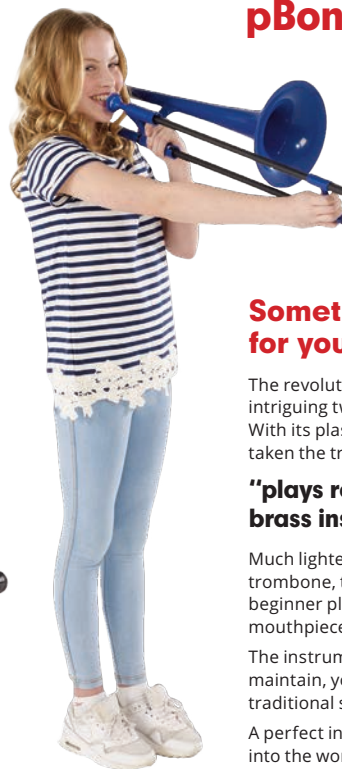

The revolutionary pBone has brought an intriguing twist to the traditional trombone. With its plastic construction, the pBone has taken the trombone market by storm!

"plays remarkably like traditional brass instrument!" Jiggs Whigham

Much lighter and easier to blow than a traditional trombone, the pBone is squarely aimed at the beginner player. The outfit comes with a plastic mouthpiece and gigbag.

The instrument is very easy to keep clean and maintain, you only need to use warm water and traditional slide creams or oils.

A perfect instrument to encourage a younger player into the world of orchestra and brass band playing.

pBugle

The most affordable way for pupils to begin an authentic journey on the trumpet, pBugle is a real trumpet that can develop authentic beginner brass skills without the complication of learning to play valves.

- Pitched in Bb
- 5" bell

computers & music

In the 21st century, computers have become powerful enough to run the numerous software programs that emulate professional recording studios. These computers have become known as DAWs (Digital Audio Workstations). A basic setup would include the following equipment:

computer
The heart of your home studio. A computer with a good processor speed and RAM processor is vital for a smooth-running DAW.

music production software
Software packages come with a wide variety of software resources, effects and a mixing desk. They have all the built-in sequencers which allow you to record, manipulate, arrange and mix all your MIDI and audio information.

studio monitors / speakers
These allow you to hear your music. Active monitors come with built-in amplifiers, while passive monitors need to be powered by an external amplifier.

MIDI controller keyboards
These are connected to your DAW via USB or MIDI and allow you to play or control the software synthesizers and instruments. They also allow you to control other MIDI peripherals like volume, pan, faders, etc.

audio interface
A piece of external hardware through which sound passes to and from your computer. This is achieved with zero latency (no delay), which means be achieved with your standard PC soundcard. Some interfaces also come with a variety of microphone pre-amp and line connections.

mixers
A mixer is a central device in a studio or live performance environment. It is used to combine and control the volume of multiple audio signals, such as those from microphones, instruments, and playback devices, into a single output signal.

hardware mixer
A physical device with knobs, sliders, and buttons that you can touch and adjust.

software mixer
A virtual mixer that exists within a computer program. It can be controlled using a mouse or touchpad.

synthesizers
A synthesizer is an electronic device that can be programmed to create or change sounds. Synthesizers combine different elements to produce interesting tones. These instruments come in a variety of forms, from simple desktop units to complex systems with multiple keyboards and sequencers.

types of synthesizer

- analog
- digital
- software
- hardware

samplers
A sampler is a device that can be programmed to create or change sounds. It works by recording a sample of a sound and then playing it back at a different speed or pitch. This process is called sampling.
